

CONFLICT INTELLIGENCE SELF-ASSESSMENT

Conflict Intelligence refers to having the self-awareness, knowledge, and skills to be attuned to ourselves and the other person or persons with whom we are in conflict. It is about having and showing the ability to manage conflict proactively with humility, objectivity, and empathy. It is about not judging and making assumptions. It is about being able to regulate our emotions and treating the other person with respect, even if we are upset. Conflict Intelligence requires us to have insight and compassion for ourselves and the other person.

Lots of factors tend to get in the way of developing Conflict Intelligence and a concentrated effort to strengthen our capacity in this important area of our lives will help bring peace among us.

This assessment is about how you currently rate your level of conflict intelligence, by considering variables that reflect aspects of conflict management. There are no right or wrong answers. This is for your eyes only to be shared only to the degree you choose to.
